A vibrant new community

“Peacocke is envisioned as a series of connected city neighbourhoods, a place where residents and their families can enjoy their home and their sense of place within our city”.

The vision for Peacocke

The development and growth of Peacocke will be the key focus-area for Hamilton City Council over the next 10 years. It will embrace the liveliness of a bustling city and balance this with the tranquility of a contoured, natural setting upon rich gully networks and the Waikato River.

Comprising of a series of linked neighbourhoods, Peacocke will celebrate living brighter by connecting residents to their surroundings and the things that matter to them most in life.

Peacocke Town Centre

Within Peacocke there will be a new town centre, which will be based around appealing and well-functioning public open space and will contain a mix of land uses, amenities and facilities such as a public library, schools, a public transport centre and more.

A future that shines.

A proposed, significant investment by the Ministry of Education in new schooling and redevelopment of existing schooling within the area will ensure Peacocke sits at the core of educational opportunities in Hamilton.

An opportune mix of amenities, recreation, and education opportunities in Peacocke will provide Aurora residents with an array of choice for whatever lies ahead each day.

The Masterplan

A well-considered masterplan.

Simple commutes, convenient connections and the world at your feet – this will be an everyday reality at Aurora.

Aurora will boast elevated sites with striking views, excellent connectivity to the wider Peacocke area and more than four hectares of open space and reserves – right at your back door.

With proposed cycleways, walkways, pedestrian bridges, green spaces, reserves, a children's playground and a neighbourhood centre filled with convenient shops and cafés, Aurora will provide families of all sizes the opportunity to make the most of every day.

Local convenience

Featuring a café, grocery store and range of local amenity shops, the proposed neighbourhood centre within Aurora will be located near walkways, a playground and pedestrian bridge. This community hub will allow residents to socialise, shop and relax just minutes from home.

Brighter homes

Homes that shine.

Within the Aurora community, a mix of housing and section sizes will be on offer to help facilitate a range of living opportunities for families big and small.

LIVE BRIGHTER

Design and quality

The design and quality of homes within Aurora will be overseen by a Design Review Committee, who will help promote and manage consistent design outcomes within the development.

This will help better preserve and enhance the value of your property by setting a standard across the development.

Brighter connections

Cycleways and walkways

Peacocke's planned extensive network of green gullies, active recreation reserves and pedestrian walkways will provide a network of open, green spaces and ideal opportunities to escape city life whenever the great outdoors beckons. Proposed shared cycleways along key transport corridors will further enable connectivity throughout the area.

Connections that thrive.

Transforming the way residents of Peacocke connect with the surrounding environment and wider area.

Whether walking, cycling or driving – proposed connectivity within Aurora and Peacocke will allow residents to explore their own backyard through a network of cycleways, walkways and extensive infrastructure projects within the area.

As part of an ongoing plan to service Peacocke, a four-lane bridge across the Waikato River is already under construction. This will place Peacocke in the close vicinity of Waikato Innovation Park and proposed Ruakura inland port and will provide a connection back to the CBD.

The proposed new bridge will also form connections to the city and the wider area, as will the Southern Links roads project and its connections to the wider roads network including the expressway, which is currently under construction.
